Tenzor International Cup 2022: About status, applications and new competitors

The opening of the summer sailing season is coming and with it, the start of the first stage of the Tenzor International Cup 2022 series is getting closer.

Your attention is an overview of the main news of the past week.

About the status

Tenzor International Cup 2022 is held in the status of an all-Russian competition and is included in the calendar of the Russian Sailing Federation.

This status allows the admission of foreign participants, which fully preserves the ideology of the project.

Tenzor International Cup 2022 is a large international project that has emerged and is developing thanks to a unique professional team and the support of reliable partners. The title partner of the Series in the 2022 season is the financial and legal group of companies Tenzor Consulting Group.

Registration of participants continues

The Organizing Committee reminds that for teams who have applied for participation in the first three stages of the series, there is a preferential rates which are valid until May 1, 2022.

We continue to present "Participants of TIC-22"

We welcome the new team Eyed Mushrooms, which has joined the lists of participants in the Tenzor International Cup 2022 Series!

Promising and talented yachtswoman Elizaveta Shestakova, the helmsman of the Eyed Mushrooms team, got into sailing relatively recently, in 2019. Having formed a crew, which included two professionals – a master of sports of international class Sergey Shevtsov in the position of tactician and Vitaly Rozhkov in the position of boatman, Elizabeth gained experience on the forecabin, and in 2022 moved to the steering wheel.

Foreign trainings and regattas in Italy, the successful participation of the team in the winter series in Monaco 2021/2022 gave good results, and the team approached the summer season and the series "Tenzor International Cup 2022" in excellent shape.

Elizaveta Shestakova: "The name "Eyed mushrooms" ("mushrooms with eyes") it was invented with reference to Ryazan, the city where two of our team members come from.

I have a strong crew, in which two professionals: Sergey Shevtsov, unfortunately, due to the current situation in the world, will not be able to be with us, so for the summer season he is replaced by Valery Zatsarinsky, as a tactician, and Vitaly Rozhkov is a boatman. Our goal for the Tenzor International Cup 2022 series is to have fun and chase in a new water area for us! And, of course, our result is interesting in comparison with strong rivals."
